

La huerta ganga

Artists Retreat

Less than one hour's drive from Malaga International Airport, perched high on a mountaintop is the small mountain village of Comares. Nestled just beneath it is La Huerta Ganga, a spacious villa bathed in warm sun and cool breezes, surrounded by almond and olive orchards. Combining a tasteful blend of Moorish and traditional Spanish architectural features, La Huerta Ganga is an ideal venue to refresh and restore your soul, explore and expand your hidden talents, or simply relax and take in the gorgeous views. Large verandas and a long covered terrace provide shade whilst absorbing breathtaking panoramic views over the Sierra de Tejada and down to the Malaga coast.

The swimming pool is wheelchair friendly and overlooks the majestic peak of La Maroma. The house also grants easy access for wheelchairs. A careful mixture of light and shade provides cool spaces and sun traps to suit the time of day and your mood. Accommodation comes in a range of rustic rooms on three storeys, each with a view, that provide a comfortable space for you to relax and soak in the prevailing ambience of calm and inspiration. Single travellers and small groups are all welcome. A combination of loving attention to your personal comfort, delicious meals made from garden grown produce, and a peaceful atmosphere allows you to feel at home, while enjoying an abundance of fun and laughter – the essential ingredients to life.

Spain's Costa del Sol is one of Europe's most popular holiday destinations, offering an endless chain of sun-drenched beaches set against a backdrop of rugged mountain ranges. With an average of 320 days of sunshine, it's no wonder that people flock to this region in search of fun, relaxation, exploration and inspiration. Steeped in historical richness that spans Roman and Moorish occupations, civil wars, political and religious upheavals, the land is alive with character. The people are warm and welcoming. Europeans of every language and persuasion have settled here and now call it home, creating their own communities and lending a cosmopolitan aura to the vibrant local lifestyle. Ancient and modern co-exist, producing a striking mixture of pleasures and pastimes for the cultural explorer and hedonist alike.

A week may be reserved for experienced artists who would like to work on their own, explore new avenues and exchange new ideas with fellow artists!

Cost: €500pps. Includes accommodation, all meals, studio facilities, and airport transfers
Contact: Rosemary Burns Tel: 087 9675630 Email: info@arc-designs.ie